

Pulpit Supply

Summary:

I believe that every pastor has days when they need to take care of something including themselves but because of preaching schedules they push on, sometimes hurting themselves, possibly their families and others. I am committed to providing these pastors an option so that they can assure themselves of meeting the needs of their churches while also meeting their own needs.

Specific Agendas

- I will prepare – have prepared Christ centered messages, from both the Old, and the New Testament. These messages are typically 30 minutes long, include bulletin insert outlines and when facilities permit include PowerPoint backup slides. (presently working on also providing media Shout.)

- Short term Notice - Emergency Coverage

I am regularly available to take calls for coverage within days of a normal Sunday morning worship service. I will present a message that has been previously prepared, and is ready. The pastor can know that his congregation will be fed, a Christ honoring message even when the situations have changed and he is not able to do it himself.

- Scheduled Respite Coverage

When a pastor is aware of a period of time during which he desires pulpit coverage¹ I can schedule these dates in advance and will work with the pastor on selecting the message text, and application.

¹ These pastoral breaks could include vacation, mission trips, or simply a time of care
Ministry White Paper – Pulpit Supply
Carl J. Simonsen
Rev 0.0 Oct. 1, 2007